DOCUMENTATIONA

By this means we would like to make evident that our company, Grupo CONHSA-PAYSA has adquired on numerous occasions Panamax protection products from the company, ROSABAL ELECTRONICA, S de R. L.

These protection systems have been utilized in different applications for computer networks and communications, specifically in the area of engineering located in athe are of the Grillo. It was here where we had the opportunity to prove the effectiveness of these protectors when an accident occurred in front of the Municipal High School. A line of high voltage fell on the secondary distribution system introducing into the installation voltages higher than 10,000 volts.

En this oppportunity the Panamax protectors saved an investment of approximately 800,000 lps in electrical equipment, computers, etc. The only electrical equipment that was damaged was equipment that did not have Panamax protection.

Truly we are very happy with the effectiveness of these protectors and for the recommendations and diagnostics that the ROSABAL ELECTRONICA company gave us.
